The London, Tilbury & Southend Class 302-317

This DVD covers the trains in service on the LT&S from 1994 until the introduction of the new Class 357. We will see Classes 302, 310, 312 and 317 in action and a 308 even makes an appearance at Upminster!

Section A: Fenchurch Street to Grays

Many services are seen arriving and departing Fenchurch Street. Pausing at West Ham tube station, we watch morning peak services race through. After Upminster we travel to Ockendon and see services at the pre- and post-refurbished station. Next the new Chafford Hundred station before finally arriving at Grays.

Section B: Upminster to Shoeburyness

Returning to Upminster we then continue our journey towards West Horndon and all stations towards Pitsea. At Leigh-on-Sea we witness turn-back services. A number of coastal views are seen as we head towards Southend Central. On arrival at Shoeburyness stock is shunted from the sidings.

Section C: Shoeburyness to Grays

From Shoeburyness we retrace our steps, passing through all stations towards Pitsea. From Pitsea we follow the old route through Stanford-le-Hope and East Tilbury and Tilbury Town to Grays.

Section D: Grays to Fenchurch Street

From Grays we join the stopping service via Purfleet, Rainham and Dagenham Dock to Barking. After Barking we see services passing all the tube stations on the route. At West Ham the new station is now complete and services are calling. Limehouse and Shadwell then feature with passing services. At Fenchurch Street many services arrive and depart. The film ends with the arrival of a pair of 357s.

Running time of this DVD-R is 64 minutes.
